

This week, the director of Junta de Beneficencia de Guayaquil, Juan Xavier Cordovez, received the visit of the members of the Benemérita Sociedad de Beneficencia de Señoras. The visit aimed to strengthen the bonds of solidarity and cooperation between the two centuries-old institutions, which seek the benefit of those most in need.

The Benemérita Sociedad de Beneficencia de Señoras is a non-profit institution funded in 1878, with the mission of managing the necessary actions in order to provide to girls, boys and adolescents a quality education through its different educational units.
